CHINESE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT EIGHT PER CENT. LOAN OF 1877.

Authorized by Imperial Edict, dated the 2nd Day of the 5th Moon, of the 11th Year of Kwong-Su, (Oct. 8, 1877).

21,604,276 0. 10 STOCK,
In Bonds of £100 EACH.

Bearing Interest from 31st December, 1877, the first Coupon of £1.68 being payable on 28th February, 1878, and Coupons of £4 being payable thereafter on 28th August and 28th February in each year, until 14th June, 1884, when the last Coupon of £2.68 will be payable.

The Bonds are redeemable at par within seven years (1884) by half-yearly drawings.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN LONDON, HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI.

PRICE OF ISSUE 98 PER CENT.

THE HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION, 81, Lombard Street, London, as Agents for the Chinese Government, hereby invite Subscriptions for £1,604,276.0.10 of 8 per cent. Bonds at the issue price of 98 per cent. payable as follows:—

£10 per cent. on application.
40 " " allotment.
48 " " 15 days after allotment.

888

The Bonds will bear interest at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 28th February and 28th August in the offices of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation in London, Hongkong, and Shanghai. The first Coupon for £1.68 for interest from 31st December, 1877, to 28th February, 1878, will be payable on the latter date, and Coupons of £4 will be payable thereafter on 28th August and 28th February in each year, until 14th June, 1884, when the final Coupon of £2.68 will be payable.

The Bonds will be redeemed at par within seven years (1884) by Thirteen half-yearly Drawings of £114,600 each, the balance of the Loan, £114,676.0.10, being paid off on 14th June, 1884.

The Drawings will take place in London in December and June in each year, and the Bonds so drawn will be paid off at par on the succeeding 28th February and 28th August at the offices of the Hongkong and Banks.

Shanghai Banking Corporation in London, Hongkong, and Shanghai, after which dates interest on the Bonds so drawn will cease.

The Loan has been authorized by an Imperial Edict, dated 8th of October, 1877, which has been communicated to the British Legation at Peking, according to a despatch from the British Consul at Shanghai, dated 20th October, 1877.

The Loan, principal and interest, is specially secured by the hypothecation of the Imperial Maritime Customs' Revenue of the Ports of Shanghai, Canton, Ningpo, and Hankow—the four Ports which have the largest Customs' Revenue of the Empire—to the extent necessary for the due payment of interest and repayment of principal of the said Loan.

The total Customs' Receipts at the Ports named for the past three years have averaged £2,005,500 per annum, and the total Customs' Revenue for the same period at all the Ports in China has averaged £8,550,000 per annum.

The indebtedness of the Imperial Government only amounts to about £700,000, of which about £250,000 mature next year. The amounts of the outstanding Loans and the proposed Loan are therefore, together, only £2,200,000, or about two-thirds of one year's Customs' Revenue. The payments both of interest and principal on account of outstanding Loans have been duly and punctually met by the Chinese Government.

The special hypothecation of Customs' Revenue to meet the charge of the present Loan is constituted by the deposit with the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation of Customs' Bonds, signed by the Chinese authorities of the respective Provinces in which the Ports referred to are situated, and by the European Commissioners at the same Ports, which Bonds will be held by the Bank in trust for the holders of this Loan. These Customs' Bonds will be received, in case of need, in payment of Chinese Customs' Duties.

The Customs' Revenue available to meet these obligations, and for which they are specially charged, is £2,100,000 per annum.

Certified translations of the official documents authorizing the Loan, may be inspected at the office of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, London.

Applications in the annexed form, accompanied by a deposit of £10 per cent, will be received by the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, 81, Lombard Street, London.

Applications from China, Japan, and Manila will be received and forwarded by the Hongkong and Shanghai Offices of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation. Those from the Straits Settlements and India to be sent to London.

Default in payment of any instalment at the due date will render all previous payments liable to forfeiture.

If no allotment is made, the deposit will be returned in full; and if only a portion of the amount applied for is allotted, the balance of the deposit will be applied to wards the payment of the amount due on allotment.

Scrip Certificates to Bearer will be issued against Allotment Letters and Bankers' Receipts, and Bonds to Bearer, when ready, will be exchanged for fully paid-up Scrip.

Forms of Application can be obtained of the HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION, at their offices in London, Hongkong, and Shanghai.

passed the winning mark on the third round at 3h. 15m. 40sec. Naomi at 3h. 24m. 12sec. Waco at 3h. 59m. 48sec. Naomi therefore saves her time from Naomi with 6m. 32sec. in hand. When Naomi gets into proper trim, we expect to see some close finishes between her and Naomi.

We regret to have to record another accident in the engine department of a vessel. About 1 o'clock yesterday morning, when H.M.S. Swinger was about 80 or 90 miles distant from the Harbour, an explosion took place in the shafts, severely burning four men. One of the men, Richard Collins, has since died, and was buried this afternoon at Happy Valley. The other men who were injured are Mr. Price (the Assistant Engineer), Thomas Shepherd (first-class stoker), and Amos (Chinese fireman), the injuries of the latter being very slight. The other two are under treatment at the Naval Hospital, and we are glad to learn that their injuries are not likely to prove fatal. No cause can be assigned for the accident; the vessel was going along steadily at the time, and the fires were burning clear, the doors of the furnace being closed. The platform of the engine-room and the bath-rooms &c. in the immediate neighbourhood were covered with a black dust. The man who succumbed, in the confusion which followed immediately after the report, ran to the engine, and endeavoured to stop them, and he thus got smothered with the burning dust, while he was at the same time badly burnt from head to foot. He was sensible for some time after the accident, but breathed his last at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. A survey was held to-day on board the vessel, but the surveyors could arrive at nothing definite regarding the cause of the accident. The general belief is that there must have been some explosive amongst the coal.

Tan O. & Co. steamer Oceanic is, says the Japan Gazette, to be withdrawn from the trans-Pacific line. Yesterday (Nov. 18th) before leaving Yokohama probably for the last time, Captain Parrell entertained a number of his friends at a dinner. In honour of Admiral Pouson, who has lately been superseded in his command in these waters, and who is a passenger by the Oceanic, the band of the flag-ship Boyana was in attendance, and played during the repast. At half-past three the Oceanic tripped anchor, and the partying gun was fired from her bows. As she steamed out of the harbour, the Boyana's yards were manned, and the other men of war dipped their flags as she passed, the band of the U. S. S. Tennessee playing the Russian national hymn.

We understand that the White Star steamer Republic is the boat that will go from England to San Francisco to relieve the Oceanic. She will remain on the route until all three of the vessels now running are thoroughly overhauled. The Republic is said to be a larger and much faster vessel than the Oceanic. In that case, we may expect some wonderful performances between China and Japan and the Pacific Coast.

ST. ANDREW'S BALL, 1877.

There can be but one opinion as to the wisdom shown by the Scotchmen of Hongkong, in celebrating St. Andrew's Day this year by a ball instead of a banquet. A ball well-managed, and a supper well-supplied, so fully meet and embody the "objects and reasons" considered necessary for a dinner, that it appears to us there can be no comparison possible of the two modes of celebration. It is quite certain that the Ball given by the Scotchmen at the City Hall last evening was one of the most successful assemblies of the kind ever given in this Colony; and while this particular celebration reflects special credit upon those immediately concerned, it is to be hoped that it may become a precedent, and that the Caledonian Ball may in future years be regarded as the opening ball of the Season here so long as foreign interests retain their hold on this Island. While it has been the fortune of this Journal, with short lapses, to have been founded and conducted by Scotchmen since the Colony existed, and to have recorded many extremely patriotic and manly sentiments uttered at the gatherings of the clans, it nevertheless appears to be conclusively shown that the exclusive national banquets of bygone days are now no longer the most appropriate celebrations of the day most dear to the hearts of those who claim Scotland, with all its associations, its metropolis, and its varied excellencies, as the land of their birth. In truth, our community is so small, and so cosmopolitan in its composition, that any festivity is thorough and satisfactory only when it is made common to all; "this more the merrier" thus becoming true to the spirit as well as to the letter.

The preliminaries for the celebration of last night were arranged by the following Committee:—Messrs J. E. Scott, R. S. F. Walker (28th Regiment), A. P. Macdonald, A. Cheyne, A. Leith, J. Fairbairn, H. E. McCallum (R.N.), R. Blackwell, W. Legge, and W. S. Young. To these gentlemen were assigned the various onerous duties necessary to render the Ball a success; and well have they performed their parts. The list of Stewards is as follows:—A. G. Allen, R. Blackwell, J. Bremner, Comr. Bruce (R.N.), A. Cheyne, D. E. Crawford, Capt. Duff (28th Regt.), J.

Fairbairn, W. Forrest, E. Innes, J. Inglis, Staff Comr. Johnston (R.N.), Hon. W. Kerwick, C. M. Kerr, W. Legge, A. Leith, Lieut. H. E. McCallum (R.N.), A. P. Macdonald, J. Noble, A. Campbell Reddie, D. M. Robb, (R.N.), Lieut. Hon. F. R. Sandilands (R.N.), J. H. Scott, C. E. Thomson, Lieut. R. S. F. Walker (28th Regt.), T. G. Williamson, G. B. Young, W. S. Young, M. Young, G. S. Yall. His Excellency Mr. Pope Hennessy arrived at the Hall at about a quarter of ten o'clock, and dancing was almost immediately commenced. There were also present:—Sir John and Lady Smale, H. E. Admiral Hillier, Sir Brooke Robertson, Admiral Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Snowden, Colonel Bassano, Hon. J. M. Price, Hon. H. Lowcock, and a large number of naval and military officers and civilians. Mrs. Hennessy, with Mr. W. S. Young (hon. secy. to the Ball Committee), opened the ball; His Excellency taking Lady Smale as his partner in the opening quadrille.

The decorations—while of the existence almost entirely to Lieutenants Walker and McCallum—were certainly the most elaborate and effective which we have seen for many a day, and constituted a feature in this year's celebration which will often be referred to in days to come. In the Entrance Hall there were a round base of columns of octagonal flower stands (about six feet in height), while round the capital of the columns was entwined a thick wreath, from which gracefully hung creepers, meeting the flowers; the arches between the floral columns were draped with flags and adorned with wreaths of evergreens; and the ceiling was festooned with wreaths and flowers. On the staircase, a thick wreath formed a green outline on the stone balustrades on either side, while the flat top of the balustrades was filled in with moss, ferns, and St. Andrew's crosses in flowers—flower-pots filling in the side spaces on right and left. At the first Landing the Flower Show appeared to be anticipated in a most effective manner, by a magnificent display of plants in pots from Government House, Government Gardens and other sources. At the Head of the Stairs, the front wall was divided into three arches, that in either corner being oval-shaped and domed, and giving the very pretty effect of natural sylvan groves. To carry out this novel artistic device the floors were tessellated with green and the roofs were filled in with plantain leaves, while the top was festooned and draped with green and flags. The flower stands, of an octagonal shape, trended upwards from corner to centre, to the height of about ten feet, and gave a soft shade and a completeness to the scene. In the central arch was placed the Grand Order of the Thistle, an eight-pointed star, four rays of which were formed of ramrods and the remaining four of bayonets. In the centre of this was the green Thistle on gold ground, surrounded by the garter of green and the motto of the Order "Nemo me impune lacessit" in gold letters. The height of this device from the extreme ends of the rays was eighteen feet; and its conception and execution were the subject of general admiration. On the walls on either side was the Grand Cross of the Order of the Thistle, in ramrods, with a silver St. Andrew's Cross in the centre, on which was a gold and green thistle. The walls also were festooned with green and flowers. At the head of the staircase, the corners were rounded off, so as to correspond with the front wall; and tessellated and filled in with green. In the centre of the wall was a device of a most striking description, viz., an endless circle of bayonets—no less than 270 having been used in its formation—festooned with flags. Above this were wreaths and flowers; and the bannisters were covered, as below, with moss and fern, and ornamented with floral crosses of the National Saint. The efforts of the Decoration Committee had been concentrated on the staircase and landing; and the only regret on this score is that the most effective decorations ever produced here were not honoured with more light to do them more ample justice. In the Ball Room there were no floral displays to the general effect, the Committee evidently being of opinion that the fair ladies would lend, as they did, sufficient grace and beauty to the scene there presented. In the main corridor, or verandah, leading from the Ball-room, however, which was tented in and draped with flags, was made additionally attractive by a large mirror at either end draped with flags. The Supper Room walls were merely festooned with a simple wreath of evergreens, ornamenting at the time-honoured painting of the Saint of Pious and Immortal Memory.

The Band of H. M.'s 28th Regiment was in attendance, and dancing was kept up until past 2; it being observed by many that the general satisfaction became apparent from the manner in which the ladies sustained the gaiety and continued it with one consent into the small hours. The arrangements were everything that could be wished, and the general success of the entertainment is a credit to all who had charge of the arrangements.

Police Intelligence.

(Before the Hon. O. May.)
Dec. 1, 1877.

THE EXPLOSION OF BOARD THE "YESSO."

Theodore Bernard and William Henry King, the Chief and Third Engineers of the S. S. Yesso, were again brought up, charged with the manslaughter of Yeung Ahn and others. Mr. W. H. Breerton appeared on behalf of the first prisoner, and Mr. Francis for the second. Mr. Sharp, the Crown Solicitor, appeared for the Crown. Mr. Francis wanted to know what was the particular neglect with which Mr. King was charged.

Mr. Sharp: With not making proper reports and with general neglect of duty. Mr. Francis said he should ask that Mr. King's case be taken as a distinct charge. Mr. Sharp maintained that the charge was the same; it was ridiculous to try and separate the cases. Mr. May said that there was certainly only one boiler exploded, and that, therefore, he thought the offence was one and the same. Mr. Francis, quoted from Archbold on criminal negligence, and said he should like His Worship to take down his objection in writing. He said that although there was only one boiler exploded, the charge of negligence against each prisoner was a separate offence.

Mr. May said he would take down whatever objection Mr. Francis chose to make. Mr. Breerton said he quite concurred in the application on the part of Mr. Bernard. Mr. Sharp said it would be very inconvenient to take separate depositions.

Mr. Francis and Mr. Breerton said they had no objection to the depositions being taken together, but they wished to reserve their right to take the cases separately. Mr. Francis said he should like to know if Mr. Sharp maintained the charge were one and the same, and Mr. Sharp replied that he did to a certain extent.

Samuel Ashton was first called, and said he was master of the Yesso. He had not passed any examination in steam and machinery, and knew nothing of steam, but what he had learnt as master of a steamer. The registered owner of the Yesso was Mr. John Stewart Laprak (Register produced).

The bulk of his evidence was nearly the same as that given at the inquest. He further stated that Mr. Bernard superintended the putting in of the boilers. Mr. Bernard made some suggestions about the putting in of the boilers and they were carried out. He (Mr. Bernard) also made some suggestions with regard to their construction, some of which were carried out, and some were not. There was no special agreement with either the first or second prisoner except what appeared on the articles. The wages of the Chief Engineer were $200 per month and found. The Chief Engineer was responsible for the proper working and order of the machinery and boilers. Witnesses were not personally aware of the state of the boilers; he supposed they were in good order. He never received any reports as to the condition of the boilers when he was Marine Superintendent. He had verbal conversation with the Chief Engineer as to the state of the Engine department. The first prisoner did not keep any watch either at sea or in Harbour, but he remained on deck all day and until midnight. He (first prisoner) had plenty of time for general supervision of his department. The cause of the accident was the blowing out of the plate of the starboard boiler. There would be no visible means of ascertaining that the plate was bad when it was in its place externally. Witness had some conversation with the late Mr. Haggar as to the cause of the accident.

Mr. Sharp asked what passed. Prisoner's Counsel objected to this conversation being taken as evidence.

Mr. Sharp said he would not press the question.

By Mr. Breerton:—The reason the Yesso was not classed at Lloyd's was that she was built at New York, she is a first class ship. There are general instructions to the engineers and Captains that D. Laprak & Co.'s vessels are to be kept in first class trim. The rule has been invariably carried out. It is customary for the third engineer to have special charge of the boilers. Two hundred dollars a month was the pay of Mr. Bernard, and this was something more than the other chief engineers received. He was receiving that amount of pay when the steamer was taken over from Dent & Co., and he was considered a very good man; the Company were anxious to keep him.

By Mr. Francis:—There were no written standing orders given to the engineers. It was left entirely in the hands of the Chief Engineer to divide the work between the other engineers. He could do as he thought fit; he had never directed either the second engineer or third engineer to look after the boilers. Had they made any complaints to me, I should simply have referred them to the Chief Engineer. There had been several men in the third engineer's situation during the last two years. The last was a Mr. Canning. He left the ship, I think, because he was dissatisfied. I heard he was dissatisfied because he was not promoted. The Chief Engineer had the engaging of the subordinate engineers. Mr. Bernard engaged Mr. King with my approval. I approved simply because Mr. Bernard recommended him. I should have discharged a man simply on the same grounds. The Yesso was last in dock about five months ago. She went in to repair a pipe which was under water. Two or three pipes were found to be defective. I never heard Mr. Canning making any noise of complaint of repairs being wanted. I have a share in the ship; Mr. Bernard has not—I am quite sure of this. He has no interest in any of Laprak's steamers. There is no fixed allowance made for the repairs of the Yesso. I've had no report of any repairs being made to the boilers, but there may have been some small repairs done. I have never had any report made to me that there was any necessity for action in using the boilers. The relations socially and generally between the first, second and third engineers were good.

By Mr. Sharp: I never heard the engineers quarrelling. The Chief Engineer's duties were onerous—I mean by onerous, responsible. They did not necessarily occupy the whole of his time. The second prisoner never made any complaints to me.

By the Court: The Chief Engineer's duties were responsible, but not laborious. Alfred Thomas Manger was first called. He deposed as follows:—I am the Manager of the firm of Douglas Laprak & Co., and have the management of the steamers under the management of the present. The Chief Engineer has been in the Yesso since she was taken over by this firm. I believe he holds an American certificate. He is the eldest registered engineer in the Empire, and receives the highest pay. We have no special arrangements with either of the prisoners. The first prisoner was engaged by the first engineer, subject to the approval of Captain Ashton. We have no periodical inspection of the boilers and machinery, but they are constantly under the inspection of the Chief Engineer. There is a log kept by the Chief Engineer; it is signed by him.

Mr. Francis objected to the log being taken as evidence against King, the second prisoner, and remarked that this showed how the charges were separate ones.

Mr. May noted the objection. Examination continued.—The log stating produced before the Yesso. The writing on them is, I believe, in the Chief Engineer's hand-writing. The returns produced, five in number, are signed by the first prisoner and are the Engineer's returns for the last five voyages. They contain no entry with reference to the state of the Engines or boilers. I have never received any report, verbal or written, from the Captain, Chief Engineer, or any other person of any defect, or need of repair, in either the boilers or machinery. The pay of our Engineers is rather higher than any other Engineers in the East.

By Mr. Breerton:—Messrs Siemens & Co. are the agents of a large line of steamers; they have no Marine Superintendents. Messrs. Butterfield and Swire have none either, nor the P. and O. Company, nor the Messageries Maritimes. It was not the duty of our Marine Superintendent to have anything to do with examining the boilers or machinery of any of the steamers. Mr. Bernard, the first prisoner, was considered more valuable, I believe, on account of his special knowledge of the Yesso's engines, which are of American construction, and the Company thought it desirable to keep him on the same pay as he had previously been having. He has always borne a highly good character both as regard efficiency and general good conduct.

By Mr. Francis:—The first prisoner has no pecuniary interest either direct or indirect in the Yesso or in her earnings.

Mr. May intimated that the Court would now adjourn till Tuesday.

Mr. Francis applied for bail on behalf of the second prisoner; he said that he thought His Worship should take into consideration the position of the prisoner in fixing the amount of bail. Fixing the bail at $5,000 was actually a denial of bail so far as the second prisoner was concerned. He (Mr. Francis) thought that $500 would do. The object of bail was to insure the presence of the accused, and $500 was as much to the second prisoner, or the friends he would be likely to find, as probably $5,000 would be to some people.

Mr. May quite agreed with Mr. Francis, but said that the present case was of such a serious nature that in fixing bail the Magistrate incurred a great responsibility and must take every precaution to insure the presence of the accused. We all know (he said), that there are men who are ungrateful enough to run away and leave their sureties to pay.

Mr. Francis said that the position in life of the accused should always be considered in fixing bail.

Mr. May agreed to take the recognizance of one householder instead of two; and Mr. Tauscher offered to stand bail for the whole amount of $5,000.

The case was then adjourned till 9 o'clock Tuesday. The prisoners were released on bail.

Kwan Ahing, a hawker, was sent to two months' hard labour for stealing an opium pipe and a pair of trousers, the property of a Doctor residing at Tai-ping-shan. The prisoner admitted the charge.

Li A Hing was sentenced to four months' hard labour for stealing a bundle from the steamer Ichang, the property of a passenger.

Abraham Klayne, a seaman, belonging to the British ship Clara, was fined 25 cents for getting drunk.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the "China Mail."

Sir,—What can you expect from the China Mail but the truthfulness, candour, good taste and exquisite sense of justice and fair play for which that journal has made itself remarkable during the last few months, and which are so conspicuous in your leader of last night on the subject of my little pamphlet on the Central School.

In spite, however, of your qualifications for the office of critic and censor, you have fallen into one or two errors, which it would be as well perhaps to correct before we go any further.

The "manifesto" as you are pleased, with a curious infidelity of language, to call a publication which is purely argumentative, did not issue from the Italian Mission. No member of the Italian or of any other mission ever saw a line of it until it was published, or knew anything of it except perhaps the mere fact that something of the sort was in hand. It does not, so far as the author knows, reiterate the arguments of the "known opponent" of the school. It takes in the main, an entirely different line of course it indicates other lines of argument and of attack, but incidentally only. Taking a different line of argument and dealing with the question, in the main, as a question not between the government and any particular church but as between the government and the public, it discusses the relative functions of the government and the parent and lays down the law as between those two parties to the controversy, quite apart from any question between the parent and the church. You, with your usual candour and justice have, of course, in your remarks, forgotten that the terms of an argument must be confined within the limits of the subject-matter. As between the State and the parent the parent is responsible for his children's education. As between the Roman Catholic church and the Roman Catholic parent, the church claims and has ever claimed the right. Other paragraphs in the pamphlet, one of which you partly quote, show pretty clearly that the writer had no intention of throwing doubt on that right, but of asserting it against the general view of the argument of the pamphlet. Really of course you misstate it and it is not to be found on page 7 of the pamphlet. Look at page 89. You may and the issues there very plainly stated. Dismiss them if you wish to do any good. For some avoid personalities. See Bishop Bismarck's plan. The Central School is sound in principle, and independent of the Bishop's merits or demerits, and so on.

London, Oct. 27.—There has been heavy fighting along the various portions of Suleiman's front, indicating a general advance of the Russian Army of the East, and a large reconnaissance to discover Suleiman's position. The Turkish position on the Lom is very strong, with admirable supports in the rear in case of a Turkish defeat. Suleiman has chosen his own position and has entrenched himself on ground of the most favorable character for defence. Eretroum is preparing for a siege. The inhabitants are fleeing, and reinforcements are hastening up from Trebizond.

Colonel Valentine Baker will shortly resign his command and return to Constantinople.

Constantinople, Oct. 28.—It is officially confirmed that Ismail Pasha, with 40 battalions, effected a junction with Mukhtar Pasha. The army is now concentrated in a strong position at Koyunlik.

London, Oct. 29.—A report from Plevna contains the following:—The Turkish loss at the battle by the Russians of the position near Gurji, Dubnik, on October 24th, was at least four thousand killed besides the wounded and prisoners. The Russians only succeeded in storming the position at the third attempt. They accuse the Turks of twice bringing them under a destructive fire by displaying a white flag.

A detachment of Russians are at Shishak, south of the Balkans, in the rear of Orhan.

get that it is you and your contemporary the Daily Press and your mandarin friend the London and China Express, that have opened the ball and thrust forward the school question, and that I have only had a shot at a target, stuck forward, apparently, in somewhat the same spirit that Paddy trails his coat after him at a fair.

Yours,

THE ANONYMOUS AUTHOR.

(Neither the name nor the subject matter of the above reply, as we believe the public are perfectly well able to judge between "The Anonymous Author" and ourselves.—Ed. C. M.)

Japan.

YOKOHAMA.

A telegram was received at the German Consulate on Sunday, the 18th instant, announcing that the German barque Christine had been reported by the M. B. S. S. Shingawa-Mori to be disabled and in need of assistance. The vessel was despatched by Messrs. Walsh, Hall & Co. for Hakodate on the 29th October, and we have now learned that H. I. G. M. S. Elizabeth left at 4 a.m. to-day (Nov. 20th) in search of the distressed ship.

The charges preferred at the instance of Mr. J. J. Ennis, of H. M.'s Consulate, acting as shipping master, against Mr. G. F. Williams, master of the Neworth, were heard before Mr. Russell Robertson yesterday (Nov. 21st). The first offence with which Mr. Williams was charged was contravention of section 226 of the Merchant Shipping Act, which provides that every master shall use legal weights and measures for serving out the men's provisions on board his vessel. This was proved, and the accused was fined $5 and costs. The second charge, that of neglecting to post in the forecastle a copy of the agreement with the crew, was not substantiated, and the sailor who brought it was ordered to bear the costs of the Court.

ARRIVAL OF THE AMERICAN MAIL.

The Pacific Mail steamer City of Tokio, arrived here this morning, with San Francisco letters and papers to the 3rd Nov.—THE WAR.

London, Oct. 23.—A correspondent at Biel reports that the Czarovitch is pushing forward against Bagrad, leaving one corps to operate against Rusehuk.

Vienna, Oct. 23.—Russia has ordered the mobilization of all Cossacks not yet in active service. These will amount to ninety-one regiments.

London, Oct. 23.—A correspondent telegraphs from Ragusa that the inhabitants of Wassowich District, Montenegro, numbering 21,000, are stricken with famine.

London, Oct. 23.—The Post authoritatively denies that Colonel Valentine Baker and other English officers have been sent to Constantinople.

Constantinople, Oct. 25.—All the means of transportation have been requisitioned at Philippopolis and Sofia for conveying the 13th instant there were 4,500 wounded in Plevna. Private houses have been converted into hospitals. The want of food and medicine is greatly felt.

New York, Oct. 25.—Letters from Constantinople declare that the Turks are suffering for want of ammunition, being without load enough for bullets, or money with which to buy it abroad. The extreme poverty which was expected to manifest itself months ago is now very apparent.

Vienna, Oct. 25.—Kars has been bombarded and part of the city is on fire. The place is provisioned for four months.

London, Oct. 26.—Morning.—A Russian official dispatch, dated Tutechinita, before Plevna, October 25th, says: Yesterday, after a desperate engagement of ten hours duration, General Gourko's detachment, co-operating with a portion of the Imperial Guard, captured a strong Turkish position between Gurnji, Dubnik and Telleche. Gen. Gourko then stationed himself on the Sofia road, strengthening his position with new fortifications. This engagement also resulted in the capture of Ahmed Eyni Pasha, together with his Chief of Staff, many other Turkish officers, about 8000 foot soldiers and an entire regiment of cavalry. Four cannon and a quantity of rifles and ammunition were also captured. Our loss is not known, but must have been considerable.

In regard to General Gourko's victory, Chevrete Pasha's official dispatch from Orhanle claims that the attack on Telleche was repulsed, but adds that the Russian cavalry has posted itself at Dubnik and destroyed the telegraph lines.

Suleiman Pasha telegraphs, under date of October 25th, as follows: To-day twelve Russian battalions, with cavalry and artillery, attacked the works of Rusehuk. The Turks made a sortie and forced the Russians to retire into their entrenchments at Pyrgos with a loss of 450 killed and wounded. Four Russian divisions attacked the Turkish line on the Lom from Javan-diklik, near Kozovo, on the right, and Solenik on the left. They were repulsed with a loss of 600 killed and some prisoners. The Turkish loss was 164 killed and 80 wounded.

London, Oct. 27.—There has been heavy fighting along the various portions of Suleiman's front, indicating a general advance of the Russian Army of the East, and a large reconnaissance to discover Suleiman's position. The Turkish position on the Lom is very strong, with admirable supports in the rear in case of a Turkish defeat. Suleiman has chosen his own position and has entrenched himself on ground of the most favorable character for defence.

Eretroum is preparing for a siege. The inhabitants are fleeing, and reinforcements are hastening up from Trebizond.

Colonel Valentine Baker will shortly resign his command and return to Constantinople.

Constantinople, Oct. 28.—It is officially confirmed that Ismail Pasha, with 40 battalions, effected a junction with Mukhtar Pasha. The army is now concentrated in a strong position at Koyunlik.

London, Oct. 29.—A report from Plevna contains the following:—The Turkish loss at the battle by the Russians of the position near Gurji, Dubnik, on October 24th, was at least four thousand killed besides the wounded and prisoners. The Russians only succeeded in storming the position at the third attempt. They accuse the Turks of twice bringing them under a destructive fire by displaying a white flag.

A detachment of Russians are at Shishak, south of the Balkans, in the rear of Orhan.

The Russians are constructing batteries on an island two miles east of Silistria. The Roumanian Division commander, who led the assault on the second Gravita redoubt, has been superseded.

Telleche was surrounded on the 28th by one cavalry and two infantry brigades of the Imperial Guard and one brigade of Cossacks and bombarded two hours by seventy-two guns, when the small Turkish garrison surrendered. The number of killed and wounded was insignificant.

A Bucharest correspondent says Russians are fortifying positions at Dubrick-Telleche, as they are threatened with a combined attack by Osman and Chevrete Pasha.

A letter, dated Adrianople, October 16th, says 20,000 refugee women and children were still there.

London, Oct. 31.—A correspondent, who was an eye-witness, telegraphs from Eretroum: As the Turks were evacuating Hassan Kaleh on Tuesday night, the Russians surprised the rear guard, taking two battalions prisoners. The Russian loss was insignificant. The enemy's approach was utterly unexpected. The Turks now occupy a formidable position at Derve Boyun, the last defensive position east of Eretroum.

Chevrete Pasha is fortifying the neighborhood of Orhan.

London, Nov. 2.—A Vienna correspondent telegraphs that Mehmet Ali Pasha has arrived at Salonica, en route for his Herzegovian command; Militia from Constantinople are to be sent to reinforce him.

London, Nov. 1.—A Berlin correspondent says that preparations seem to be making in various quarters, with a view to the restoration of peace in the event of a decisive Russian victory at Plevna. England is sounding the Powers as to the probability of future mediation, on the basis of the programme of the late Constantinople Conference. The correspondent does not anticipate any decided response to England's overture until after some decisive operations. There have been numerous contradictory rumors in circulation on this subject.

VARIOUS REPORTS.

An effort is being made to gain possession of the Plevna and Rahova roads. A Roumanian force between the Vid and Iaker yesterday made a reconnaissance along the Danube, in the direction of Rahova. At Vaden, they found a Turkish detachment occupying some earthworks, and after a brief cannonade, the Turkish magazine exploded and the garrison retreated in the direction of Rahova. Two companies of the Roumanians occupy the redoubt.

A considerable force of Russian is concentrated in Hain-Boytas Pass. Eight thousand regular troops, all now remaining in Constantinople, have been ordered to the front.

A special from Shumla says Silistria is threatened with investment, but is exceedingly strong in defence and fully armed.

Bucharest, Nov. 2.—On October 31st Chevrete Pasha advanced to retake Telleche. He was defeated after several hours' engagement by the Russians at Radomir, and fled in the greatest disorder.

Plevna is now completely invested. A special from Bagot, about eight miles south of Plevna, has the following: The Oars arrived here on the 27th of October. Grand Duke Nicholas has his headquarters here. General Tollenbe is at Eminents with his staff. The Prince of Roumania's headquarters are at Porodin. The attack on Telleche, simultaneously with the capture of Dubnik on the 24th ultimo, was repulsed, with a loss of 1,000 men. The loss at Dubnik was 8,000 men. Every brigade and regimental commander was killed or wounded, and as nearly all the officers of the Guard are personally known at headquarters, the fact that 800 officers have been placed hors de combat has cast a deep gloom over the staff at Bagot. The bombardment of Plevna continues in a desultory way.

The Greatest Wonder of Modern

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Persons suffering from weak or debilitated constitutions will discover that by the use of this wonderful medicine there is "Health for all." The blood is the fountain of life, and its purity can be maintained by the use of these Pills.

Dr. Samuel Baker, in his work entitled "The Nile Tributaries in Abyssinia," says, "I ordered the druggist at Mahomet to inform the Fakay that I was a Doctor, and that I had the best medicine at the service of the sick, with advice gratis. In a short time I had many applicants, to whom I served out a quantity of Holloway's Pills. These were most useful to an explorer, as possessing unmistakable purgative properties they create an undeniable effect upon the patient, which satisfies him of their value."

SIMPLE, SAFE AND CERTAIN

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT

It is a certain remedy for bad legs, bad breasts, and abscesses of all kinds. It acts miraculously in healing eruptions, curing skin diseases, and in arresting and subduing all inflammations.

Mr. J. T. Cooper, in his account of his extraordinary travels in China, published in 1871, says—"I had with me a quantity of Holloway's Ointment. It gave some to the people, and nothing could exceed their gratitude; and, in consequence, milk, honey, butter, and horses were poured in at almost as fast a rate as spoonsful of Ointment was with a few, and any quantity of peas and lentils were demanded to great quantities of the demand, because the great mass was obliged to look up the small remaining stock."

Sold by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

CHLORODYNE

(An Army Med. Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY

GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne, that the story of the "Defendant's Promise," which he regretted had been given to the "Eminent Hospital Physician," London, stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's. See Times, July 12, 1864.

The public therefore are cautioned against using any other than

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

Remedial uses and action.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively, using it in great quantities in the following diseases—

Diseases in which it is found eminently useful—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Colic, Coughs, Asthma, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Whooping Cough, Cramp, Erysipelas, &c.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Daventry that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne. See Lancet, Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay—"Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the properties of well-selected coconuts, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a deliciously flavoured beverage which will save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such bills, that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."

The scope of this work includes detailed descriptions of important cities and movements, notes on the climate and general topography, fauna, flora, geology, and meteorology of each Port and its neighbourhood, with Hints and minute details respecting the progress and social characteristics of the several foreign settlements. To these particulars are added summaries and statistics of the Trade of each open Port, compiled from official returns, together with statements respecting COMMERCE, CURRENCY, and EXCHANGES; LIST OF STEAM COMMUNICATIONS; DISTANCES and rates of PASSAGE Money; Hints, and recommendations to travellers; giving full particulars of Customs and mode of proceeding to the least frequented settlements are also included, combined with notes on DOMESTIC MARKETS and Mode of Living.

In addition to furnishing similar particulars, the Second Edition to Hongkong contains an historical sketch forming a chronological index of the chief events which have attracted public attention between 1841 and 1876, including POLITICAL EVENTS, Changes in the GOVERNMENT SERVICE, the passing of important ORDINANCES, the Arrival and Departure of EMINENT RESIDENTS, a record of the most notable PIRATES, ROBBERS, MURDERERS, FRAUDS, FIRE and CRIMINAL TRIALS, ADDRESSSES and PARLIAMENTS, &c., &c.

The appendix contains full tables of the various steam companies. It also includes a CALENDAR of over 440 works published in the English language upon China and Japan, while a copious INDEX at the end of the work affords a ready means of reference to the reader.

THIS Mail Summary is compiled from twice a month on the morning of the English Mail's departure, and is a record of each fortnight's current history of events in China and Japan, contributed in original reports and collected from the journals published at the various ports in those countries.

It contains Shipping news from Shanghai, Hongkong, Canton, &c., and a complete Commercial Summary.

Subscription, 50 cents per Copy (postage paid 50 cents) $12 per annum (postage paid $13.50).

THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, DEC. 1, 1877.

We have received an interesting work by Dr. Dudgeon of Peking entitled "The Diseases of China." It contains many valuable hints to Europeans residing in the Far East. Regarding the climate of China generally, Dr. Dudgeon considers it salubrious, invigorating and favourable to longevity, but these remarks do not of course apply to either the extreme north or the extreme south of the empire.

An important factor in the health of the Chinese is their being so much in the open air. The male portion of the people carry on their trades and callings in the public streets, and in this way, many of the evils and dangers of crowded workshops arising from impure air, from whatever cause, are avoided. With respect to cleanliness, Dr. Dudgeon is forced to admit the Chinese are exceptionally indifferent. Cold baths are never indulged in; the people abhor not only the touch but the taste of cold water. Cold bathing is never resorted to, and it is to the use of warm water, their temperate habits, and partly also to the non-use of stoves, that we must attribute the absence of prickly heat. The sensibility of the skin of Europeans to this affliction is greatly increased by stimulants. In the matter of bathing, a little water satisfies the Chinese; for their ablutions they are content with just as much scalding water as will cover the bottom of a flat brass basin. The greasy Commissioner Yeh on his way as a prisoner to Calcutta indulged in a bath truly a la Chinese when he called for a scouffup of warm water. The Chinese suppose Europeans are obliged to bathe daily on account of the insupportable heat and odours which are emitted from their clothes. Hot or warm baths, especially in tropical climates, are, Dr. Dudgeon says, by far the safest and really the most cooling in summer, the strong reaction after a cold bath making the feeling of heat tenfold worse. There are also various diseases, especially of the liver, where cold bathing might prove dangerous, as tending to conception of internal viscera. It would, perhaps, be cruel to think of disarming Chinese beggars of their foul coat by means of a hot bath, because they would certainly die from inability to resist the cold. The thievish air would gain admittance at every pore.

Regarding sunstroke, Dr. Dudgeon states that in 1872 no fewer than ten deaths occurred from this cause at Shanghai, and it was found on enquiry that in nearly every case, the deceased persons indulged freely in alcoholic liquors. Intemperance is recognised as a powerful predisposing cause to heat apoplexy. Intemperance is almost unknown among the natives, thanks, in a great measure, to their temperateness in eating and drinking. Opium, Dr. Dudgeon regards as a destroyer of health, property, position and life; of all their vices the most insidious and most difficult to throw off. Opium is in one respect preferable to spirits, because it does not brutalise; it does not excite the fierce passions of men, but, by enervating, soothes them. The habit is easily acquired; a fortnight's regular use, and it will require an almost superhuman effort to cast it off. "This is one of its most characteristic peculiarities. The gnawing agony of the unaddicted craving is maddening; physical strength is prostrated; the mind weakened, and a few seconds after the opium pipe has touched his lips, the smoker is relieved for the time being of all his suffering. He anticipates his craving and flies to the stimulant; if deprived beyond the usual period he gapes, yawns, and discharges mucus from his eyes and nose, and is perfectly miserable and good-for-nothing. There are rare cases of great determination in throwing off the evil habit; body and mind are usually too weak for the exertion of the purpose. The curse of the habit, like drunkenness, falls with special severity upon the poor; half of the labouring man's wages are spent on this single article."

Upon the subject of clothing, Dr. Dudgeon offers some very sensible remarks. In the material of her fabrics and the shape of her clothes, for both sexes, China will not suffer in comparison with other nations. The dress of the Chinese, which is of the becoming and simple kind, can be adapted with remarkable ease to quickly altered atmospheric conditions. Without changing the entire suit he takes off or puts on as occasion requires. In the spring and autumn this is particularly necessary. The morning and evening dress is hardly suited for mid-day and vice versa.

The black-haired race is destitute of shirts, flannels, and anti-cholera belts. Their style of dress, coupled with their style of living, renders some of these foreign requisites unnecessary. Our abdomens are not half so well protected from sudden cold, &c., as those of the Chinese. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, &c., are frequently prevented in summer among our Europeans especially now-comes, by the adoption of such belts or bandages. How much mischief is created by our failure to clothe ourselves seasonably? Chinese tailors, let me say, sit at their boards, and so are saved from those troubles to which the sons of the needle with us are exposed from their stooping and cramped position. And as to their shoes, the top and sides are made of calico, silk, satin, or velvet, and the soles of several layers of thick paper, rags or felt, protected sometimes by a thin outer sole of leather. They are soft and easy to the feet, and those plagues of over-civilisation, corns and bunions, are almost unknown. The Chinese can dispense with boards in their houses, or from the thickness of the sole, or sometimes two inches, they may be said to carry their flooring constantly with them; it raises them above the dirt, damp and wet. These thick soles suit their dignified gait, and the only evil which I have found from their use, is the necessity for constant paring of the toe nails—a regular trait of the chiropodist existing in all Chinese towns for this purpose.

Small-pox, says Dr. Dudgeon, is endemic among the Chinese; it is never absent, although in certain years and seasons it is much more virulent. Children only in China take small-pox, but then all take it with very few exceptions. The Chinese laugh, says Dr. Dudgeon, at the idea of foreign adults contracting this disease. "There are some fifty or sixty professional vaccinators in Canton, and about half the children get protected in this way. The Chinese have taken wonderfully to vaccination, and it is productive of the best results."
